This is our first visit to Coloraco Springs and its surroundings but few members of the General Assembly were able to enjoy the benehts of the generous invitation of the Denver & Rio Grance Rai way, naving been soiling in session, their private business demanded their persona, attention at home A beautiful ittle city, in nearly the geograph scal centre o our young State, has arisen with a mist magic velocity. Colorado Springs, with al its architectural seamty, its intelligence, refinement, virtue, commercial importance, and educationa progress-equal in the more imporfant sources of excellence to many towns a century older rests upon a locality, which, five years has secured the result so creditable to Colora do's progressive spirit. This enterprise inc loca demanc, which has brought the town into existence, is a re-table graranty that it will be do you think of hit un? sustained in its progress in the long future. To cescribe, minute y, the minute as they impress the stranger, would be superfluous t is chough to say, as Webs er said of Massachie setts, "There she stands, behold her?" We will only refer to the elegant school bruse -a chaste and substantial structure that looms upto view as you ap roaden the town, slidwing that the cultivate it of the mind stands foremost among the institutions, their wisdom has established, and rec goizes the maxim that "knowl edge is power. In the e-times of deat and finant to civiess, it is found has to reflect, that this time their commodians school louse is free from the the that of dest, by school bonds or otherwise stream before be lating, a small show str to appearate the young and primising city, with, in weeging the chine hi the stranger has only to risit, and he will be

- AYES, The Salem (Mass.) Gazette prints a commumeation which says ... 'Ord of the best tings. to illustrate the character of Mr. Haves is told by a Boston gentlemin, a native of Silem, a person of much face and determination the summer of 1860 he was traveling with his family in Canaca, taking a steamer at Osiebic for law aw lay, at the mouth of the Sag uenay liver, there came up a cense for, and the steamer, through the incompetency of the captain, who was grossly into sicated was flicted in a fearful position. The drunken bru e as sures the large number of passengers on sourch that he knew what he was about, and gave or ders to steer the boat in a cirection which would have made showred timevicable. To all ad vice and remonstrance only abuse was returned, tinguish it in the creation of Groc. This is the when the Boston gentleman said, " he nur principe that makes man; this it is that is men wil stand by me, wil take the command sternal. And hence we see the nature of that of this steamer from this crunken man, and but the mate in charge? The first man who within teered was Rutherford 3 ayes, then an un known awver at Cincinnata"
